HAS HAD A BAD EFFECT

Interest In War Measures Is Suspended.

PEACE TALK HAS CAUSED IT.

No Terms Have Yet Been Named by Either Side.

NO ADVANTAGE TO BE GIVEN UP.

Before an Armistice Is Agreed to Some Binding Pledges Will Be Exacted From the Treacherous Dons by the United States.

Washington, July 28.—The initiation of overtures for peace has had the effect of suspending in a large measure, for the time being at least, interest in the military and naval situation. Though it is known through the open admission of members of the administration that the present peace phase would remain unchanged until after another cabinet meeting on Friday there was still evidenced a disposition to discuss this matter in its every aspect.

Naturally the first point of inquiry was the exact shape taken by the Spanish presentation Tuesday. Curiously on this point remained ungratified, and must probably so continue for some days to come, the president having decided that nothing more definite than the statement issued from the White House shall be given to the public at this time.

The motive is a prudential one, and the president has even gone so far as to suggest to the Madrid authorities the expediency of keeping the text of the Spanish overture from publication at this time. The next point of interest was the character and extent of the demand likely to be made by the United States as the condition of peace.

It is felt that the statement of terms of peace, both from Spain and from the United States may be deferred some days as the result of considerable diplomatic fencing at the outset before the actual point of stating terms is reached. A good deal of this for instance may result from the attempt to define the methods of approach to the object sought, whether through a commission, or through the direct exchange of notes as initiated.

There will be much discussion in all likelihood also regarding an armistice for it is the distinct purpose of the Spanish authorities to secure a suspension of hostilities pending the negotiations for peace. It may be that the application will be granted, but if so, it will be only under the most effective safeguards to prevent loss of any advantage to the United States and upon binding pledges that certain well defined objects are to be conceded to us.

The president discussed this complex subject all day with various members of the cabinet as they called in the course of ordinary business. Secretary Day and Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith spent some time at the White House, presumably exchanging views with the president. It is virtually admitted by leading members of the administration that upon only one point in peace negotiations is there likely to be serious friction, and that relates to the future of the Philippines.

As to Cuba and Porto Rico, our government feels that there is a reasonable certainty of encountering little opposition to our demands. The Spanish government might insist upon the proposition thrown out by the Vatican, namely, that the United States shall annex Cuba, the ostensible purpose being to secure full protection for the Spanish element left in the island, but while this would be a vexatious point it would yield to adjustment.

As to the Philippines there is a full expectation of greater difficulties to be surmounted. There is reason to believe that these difficulties like the Cuban settlement will be rather internal than international in their character, at least from the outset. The president is firmly of the opinion that the United States has no use for the island as a permanent possession.

There are however, evidences that a large element in the United States is of the opinion that the islands should be acquired by the United States, and it is hoped by the president that before it comes to the formulation officially of the United States' "demand" public sentiment in this country, through newspaper discussion and otherwise, will have so far been crystallized as to enable the government to perceive the popular demand clearly. It may be stated that it is confidently expected that when the two governments arrive at the point of actually fixing terms they will be found much closer together than is generally supposed.

It is felt by officials that with the diplomatic formalities out of the way the actual peace terms would require little time for arrangement, and it was even suggested that the anomalous condition might be presented of Spain's conceding as much or more than the United States felt justified in demanding. There is little reason to doubt that Spain has made up her mind that she must give up Cuba. It is almost equally certain that Spain recognizes that she must consent also to the abandonment of Porto Rico.

With those two vital points passed there is likely to be little delay on the question of indemnity, as there is every disposition here not to press with undue severity on Spain in this respect. About the only reason which would impel this government to insist upon an indemnity would be a further stubborn resistance by Spain. Speaking broadly, the statement was made by an influential official that a settlement in which Spain conceded two vital points, namely, Cuba and Porto Rico, and at the same time gained two vital points, namely, freedom from a war indemnity and a retention of her control of the Philippines, would appear to be a just balance of equities.

Nothing was heard from the Miles expedition at the war department, but Captain Higginson, the senior officer of the naval convoy, forwarded a brief cablegram that gave keen delight to the navy department because of the unstinted praise it accorded to a popular and dashing young officer, "Dick" Wainwright, the commander of the little Gloucester. Wainwright, having been commended by his superior, Higginson, for his actions at Guanica, enjoys the solitary distinction of being the only officer attached to Sampson's fleet who has been twice officially commended since the war began.

The war department has reconciled itself to the summary change in the plans made by General Miles when he landed at Guanica instead of on the northeast coast of Porto Rico, as previously agreed upon. It is surmised that he was led to make this change by reason of the detention of his lighters and foresaw a week's delay in effecting a landing unless he went in where he did, and ran his troops and artillery directly ashore. He thus has avoided exposing his troops to the hardships suffered by Shafter's men as they lay for so many days off Santiago. It is also suggested that the general has scored an important diplomatic advantage in setting foot upon Porto Rican soil before the first overtures had been received from Spain looking towards peace.

The departure of General Brooke and General Haines from Hampton Roads, which is expected, to reinforce General Miles in Porto Rico is a very substantial evidence of the purpose of the government not to abate the prosecution of military operations at this stage of the negotiations. The two generals are embarked on rapid liners and should reach General Miles by next Monday, putting him in possession of a sufficient force to begin the movement upon San Juan at once.

The second captured battleflag was received at the war department with a brief note from General Shafter, as follows:

"Fragment of Spanish flag captured by the Thirteenth United States Infantry at San Juan, July 1."

Inspector General Breckinridge, who had been a member of General Shafter's staff, sailed at the White House and personally described to the president the conditions existing there when he left, July 20. He spoke particularly of the remarkable enthusiasm displayed by the United States troops there and of their cool, brave conduct under fire. He also minimized the yellow fever conditions, and said that the troops had been fully prepared in advance for its appearance.

THE ABSORBING TOPIC
Is Spain's Suit For Peace Filed by the French Ambassador.

Washington, July 28.—In diplomatic quarters Spain's peace proposal, made through the French ambassador, is the absorbing topic, and the answer of the president is awaited with keen interest. The diplomats showed their interest early by calling at the state department, and at the French embassy, to learn with more exactness the details of Spain's proposal. This developed several features of the proposition which had not been entirely clear before.

In the first place, no foreign government outside of France has been consulted by Spain in this overture for peace, and the present movement is not share, directly or indirectly, by Germany, Austria, Italy, Russia or Great Britain. It can now be stated, however, that the formal proposition submitted has been under consideration at Madrid for five days previous to submission, during which time the British as well as the French authorities were cognizant of the fact that Spain was about to sue for peace.

This being settled, it appears that a good-natured but keen rivalry sprang up between Sir Drummond Wolff, the British ambassador at Madrid, and M. Patenotre, the French ambassador there, as to which government should have the honor of initiating the movement designed to restore the peace of the world. Owing to the cordiality existing between the governments of Great Britain and the United States it was felt at first that Sir Drummond Wolff would be commissioned to approach the United States, acting at Washington through Sir Julian Pauncefote. But Spain appears to have preferred the mediation of the French government, and as a result the negotiations finally were intrusted to the French ambassador at Washington.

Another essential point is the exact proposition made by Spain. There has been some misapprehension over this, owing to the publication of an alleged text of the proposition, and other reports asserting that Spain asked President McKinley to state terms of peace. As a matter of fact the Spanish proposition does not mention the word "terms," and there is no request or suggestion in it that the president shall state terms of peace.

The distinct inquiry made by Spain is as to whether the United States will open negotiations toward the settlement of the war and the arrangement of peace. It is based on the theory that if the president answers in the affirmative then the negotiations for terms will be opened between commissioners or parties clothed with the responsibility of bringing about a settlement. Neither does the Spanish proposition contain any reference to an "armistice."

At the same time it is framed on the idea that if peace negotiations are entered upon there will be a suspension of hostilities pending an agreement upon the exact terms of peace. In this connection there appears to be a distinction made between the word "armistice" and "suspension of hostilities," for while it is said the former is not asked or expected, it seems to be taken for granted that a suspension of hostilities will be essential to carrying forward the peace negotiations.

The Spanish proposition is clothed with all the solemnity and formality of a government act, despite the cable report from Madrid that the peace proposal is of a "private" nature. The instructions to M. Cambon bear the official signature of Duke Almodovar de Rio, the Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and besides expressing the desires of the cabinet and government that the peace negotiations be opened, they are given the added solemnity of approval and earnest personal request by Queen Regent Maria Cristina.

The instructions bear the date of Madrid, June 25. These formalities dismiss all question in the minds of officials here as to the regularity of the Spanish proposition as expressive of the wishes of the government of Spain. Aside from this M. Cambon is too much of a veteran in diplomacy to have embarked on any private overtures toward peace.

As to the manner of conducting the peace negotiations several plans are said to be open, besides that of having General Porter and Senor Castillo, the United States and Spanish ambassadors at Paris, respectively, conduct them. One plan is to have Spain name peace plenipotentiaries who will come directly to Washington and conduct negotiations. This, however, is said to be somewhat inexpedient, as it would take nine days for the Spanish plenipotentiaries to reach Washington, and there is every desire to avoid delay. Another tentative plan is to have Spain name M. Cambon as the Spanish plenipotentiary to Washington, thus conferring on him authority to treat directly with the president and carry the negotiations forward to a conclusion.

London, July 28.—The Anglo-American league, recently formed for the purpose of securing "cordial and constant co-operations on the part of the two nations" selected Right Honorable James Brice, Liberal member of parliament for the South division of Aberdeen, for chairman, and the Duke of Sutherland for treasurer.

The Corn Blasted by Heat.

Hagerstown, Ind., July 28.—The plenteous rain which fell here Monday came too late to rescue the corn from the effects of the long-continued drought. The dry, hot weather which has prevailed for several weeks has been especially severe on corn, much of which, even in the low-lying bottoms, has been blasted. Buckwheat, beans and melons are practically failures. The crop of apples and plums will be the shortest known for many years, but grapes and peaches are abundant and good quality. Pasture is very short, but the rain will bring it out.

Fairbanks For President.

Indianapolis, July 28.—Senator Fairbanks will be a candidate for president in six years, says an intimate Indiana friend, who asserts that he has promised of support from McKinley, Hanna and Foraker. He was made the head of the Canadian commission, which, after the war, will be a center of attraction and keep Fairbanks' name prominent. The scheme contemplates McKinley's renomination by acclamation in two years. Despite the Hanna-Foraker row, Fairbanks holds the warm friendship of each.

Big Deed Filed.

Chicago, July 28.—Levi Z. Leiter filed for record a warranty deed conveying to Marshall Field, for a consideration of $2,135,000, the property at the southeast corner of State and Madison streets, in this city. The corner is considered one of the most valuable for business purposes in Chicago. War revenue stamps amounting to $2,135 were attached to the deed.

Receiver Appointed.

Denver, July 28.—Judge Reyner of the United States court has appointed Francis T. M. McEnery, receiver of the Denver Paper company. The creditors agreed upon this action as a means of recovering amounts due. The company's assets are worth more than $1,000,000. Its liabilities are $580,000, nearly all held in New England and the middle states.

Cornerstone Laid.

St. Paul, July 28.—With great ceremony in the presence of an immense concourse of people Hon. Alexander Ramsey, territorial governor, only survivor of the famous Union war governors, ex-secretary of war and ex-United States senator, laid the cornerstone of Minnesota's new capitol building in this city. Archbishop Ireland prayed.

Smith Did Not Say It.

Washington, July 28.—Postmaster General Emory Smith denies that he said to a correspondent of a Russian newspaper that "we are sure that old friends will not betray the United States just as we will not betray them. As for England, the majority here share your sentiments toward her."

Emphatically Denied.

New York, July 28.—At the office of the American Sugar Refining company the story that W. B. Thomas of Boston, a director of the company, was to be chosen president in place of Henry O. Havemeyer was emphatically denied.

HEARD AT HONOLULU.

Hawaiians Know They Are Now Americans.

THE REJOICING WAS GREAT.

One Hundred Guns Were Fired, Fireworks Were Set Off, Bands Played Music, and General Pandemonium Reigned.

Honolulu, July 20, via San Francisco, July 28.—The steamship Coptic arrived from San Francisco on the evening of the 13th instant, with the important news that the United States senate had ratified the Newlands resolution, making Hawaii a part of the United States.

Long before the vessel had reached the harbor it was known that the steamer brought annexation news, the information being signalled to the Mohican.

Whistles of foundries, mills and steamers were turned loose and pandemonium reigned. Fireworks were set off and 100 guns were fired on the grounds of the executive building.

At the same time the Hawaiian band marched through the streets to the wharf playing American patriotic airs. An immense procession was formed and a march was made to the executive building.

President Dole was at his beach home when the steamer was sighted. He hurried into town and reached the wharf as the steamer tied up.

SENSATION IN LONDON.

Big Money Paid For "Fluence" by a Company Promoter.

London, July 28.—The public examination of the bankruptcy court into the affairs of Mr. Ernest Terah Hooley, the company promoter, for whose property, on his own application, a receiver was appointed on July 23, attached to a big crowd of people. The debtor attributed his failure chiefly to his partner, a man named Rucker, crippling the business by drawing out £500,000 within two months.

In detailing the flotation of the Dunlop Tire company, Mr. Hooley said the names on the directorate cost between £80,000 and £100,000, including those of Lord Albermarle, £12,500, and Lord De La Warr £25,000.

In connection with the flotation, Mr. Hooley also said he lost £63,000 on "press calls," those being "shares intended for people connected with newspapers," whose names have not been divulged, though it is expected they will be made public later.

In the course of his testimony, Mr. Hooley detailed the payments he had made to newspapers, including, as alleged, the Pall Mall Gazette, the Financial Post, and a number of smaller papers.

When Mr. Hooley was questioned about £10,000 paid to Harry Marks, editor of the Financial News, he denied that it was connected with the insertion of "puffs" in the paper named.

As a matter of fact, the supposed profit of the flotation of the Dunlop Tire company, amounting to £1,700,000, had been "sweated" away to under £200,000.

Mr. Hooley further asserted that he paid many thousands of pounds for introductions to Lords Ashburton, Warwick, Norbury and others, and he testified that the Earl of Winchelsea received £10,000 for acting as chairman of one of the bicycle tube manufacturing concerns.

The testimony is creating even more of a flutter in the west end of London than in the city proper. The revelations concerning such men as the Earl of De La Warr and the Earl of Albermarle have been received with astonishment.

Numerous instances were disclosed by Mr. Hooley in which a peer bearing a proud title would charge the promoter a sum ranging from £500 to £2,000 for an introduction to another peer.

Thus, Mr. Hooley said, the Earl of De La Warr received £2,000 for an introduction to Lord Greville, while Lord De Hurst (who married Miss Bonyng of San Francisco) was paid £2,000 for an introduction to Lord Ashburton.

Epidemic of Typhoid.

Washington, July 28.—Ten new cases of typhoid were sent from Camp Alger to Fort Meyer. There are also many cases of malarial, intermittent fever and other ailments in camp which might develop into typhoid. Owing to the number of cases of this sort in company G, Twelfth Pennsylvania, it has been isolated. Private Vandervoort, company F, Eighth Ohio, and John Kendall, company D, one Hundred and Fifty-ninth Indiana, have been found to be affected with tuberculosis.

TUESDAY, JULY 28, 1898.

The Navy Department has decided that our new battle ships must be the fastest on the seas. That's a wise conclusion. When we go after our enemies we don't want them to escape by superior speed.

"I CONGRATULATE you most sincerely upon this great victory to the squadron under your command, and I am glad that I had an opportunity to contribute in the least to a victory that seems big enough for all of us."—Commodore Schley.

"The Brooklyn's westerly blockading position gave her an advantage in the chase which she maintained to the end, and she employed her fine battery with telling effect."—Admiral Sampson.

The above clippings are taken from the official reports of the destruction of Cervera's fleet. They show there is little or no foundation to the report of ill feeling between the two officers named. Commodore Schley appears to fully appreciate Admiral Sampson's disappointment at being so far away when the battle began.

Still, there seems to be a studied effort in Admiral Sampson's report to minimize the splendid and effective work of the Brooklyn, and magnify his own work. He has more words of praise for several other vessels than for the Brooklyn, and yet none of them did as much in destroying the Spanish fleet as Commodore Schley's swift vessel.

The New Election Law Worries Eu.

FRANKFORT, KY., July 27.—The way prospective candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor are hesitating about announcing their candidacy is explained by at least two who are known to have designs on the nomination. Both Attorney General Taylor and State Treasurer Long are credited with having told confidential friends that they would wait and see the operation of the Goebel election law at its first trial this fall. If the result is fairly satisfactory to both parties it is likely there will be a full-grown crop of candidates following the election, but at present Republican politicians are merely waiting and watching.

Greenup County's All Right: So's Mason. GREENUP, KY., July 26.—The Greenup County people are justly indignant on account of the Cincinnati and Kentucky papers speaking of Captain Corum's Company as coming from Mason County. The trolley car has been utilized for all sorts of local announcements, with excellent results, especially in small communities, doing in its way much of the work that the old bell erler was supposed to exist for, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. On rainy days a village car will often save the school children a useless tramp by carrying a placard with the inscription on, "No School To-Day," and in some places the local weather bureau now notifies the road of prospective meteorological changes, and the cars, as they go out of the car barn mount the appropriate signal in the shape of a flag flying between the trolley pole and the car. People can thus tell by a glance at the passing car whether to carry an umbrella or not, and what sort of an overcoat to put on.

THE "KENTUCKY."

Popular Subscription Started To Buy a Handsome Silver Service For the New Battleship.

Col. Harry Weissinger, Chairman of the finance committee of the commission of United States battleship "Kentucky" has taken up the matter of buying for the great ship, when she is formally turned over to the government, a handsome silver service, with all the vim that characterizes his every enterprising move, says the Louisville Commercial. He wants the silver to be purchased through a popular subscription, and to this end has addressed a letter to citizens of Kentucky, which in circular shape will be largely distributed. In part, the letter is as follows:

"The great battleship 'Kentucky,' named in honor of the State, which was launched March 25, will be put in commission some time between January 1st and March 1st, 1899.

"It has been universally conceded that when the great ship shall have been completed, a handsome silver service, emblazoned with the arms of the State, should be presented. Such has been the custom of all the states which have been so honored by the government. Kentucky, I know, will not be behind, but will rather excel them in the splendor of her gift and the universality of the offering."

"The gift will not cost less than $10,000. It is proposed to secure this amount by popular subscription. Every town in the State of Kentucky should be represented. No one need fear that his subscription will be too large, nor none so small that it will be overlooked. We want both dollars and dimes, for it is to be the people's gift.

"With the gift to the ship will go a list of the contributors, and the place of residence (but not the amount), so in making your contribution write name and address distinctly.

"It is also proposed to publish a souvenir book, which will contain a cut of the battleship 'Kentucky,' with description, cut and presentation, also names of subscribers. The book will also contain the latest revised list of the American navy and other interesting data. The publication of this book depends largely on the amount of the subscription; it will be sent free to those who contribute $20 or more.

"The splendid achievements of the American navy in the present war thrill every American heart with pride whenever it is mentioned, and I am persuaded that on this occasion there will be no backwardness on the part of our people, but a patriotic rivalry as to who will give first and most."

The letter of Col. Weissinger is also sent to the Mayors of the different towns, and they are asked to furnish brief sketches of their respective towns for use in the souvenir book.

MAYSVILLE people are quick to show their appreciation of talent, applaud ability and sit in the presence of genius. These are reasons why another great audience filled Electric Park theatre last night; and a more pleased one never came away. Those illustrated songs of the Deagons are very fine—"I thought 'Break the News to Mother' was pretty but under the force of pictures, and the sweet voiced interperter, then it is exquisitely beautiful and touching." Such is a characteristic expression of those who came away. The Verbons are high-class and amusing while 'Rastus' is a live coon of great promise. The prologue to the whole is a funny farce of approving character, done by the Deagons and Verbons, all of which meaty program you can enjoy for 10-cents. Just board car down town, pay the conductor, and you are whirled away amid cooling breezes to enjoy pure vaudeville for nothing.

IT BEGINS to look as if the American warships and the American naval officers and enlisted men are invincible. The world's history does not record two parallel cases to those of Dewey at Manila and Schley and Sampson at Santiago, in which the entire fleets of the enemy were utterly crushed and destroyed with great loss of life to them, and all without serious damage to a single vessel on our side and only one man killed.

Decisions by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue as to the Special War Tax.

In regard to the special tax to be paid by leaf tobacco dealers, the following decision by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue will be of interest:

A certain Collector asked whether warehousemen whose interest in tobacco extends no further than their commission on sales made, are liable for special taxes, and if so, which clause provides for this? Under section 4 of the new law, the special tax imposed on dealers in leaf tobacco is a graduated one, and is determined by the actual sales for the preceding fiscal year. The warehouseman or commission merchant dealing in leaf tobacco is liable to special tax under that section. In addition to this, he is required, under section 3,360 of the revised statutes, as amended by act of March 1, 1879, to keep a book, form 59, and to enter therein daily the number of hogsheads, cases and pounds of leaf tobacco purchased or received by him on assignment, consignment, transfer, or by any other method; he must also keep a record of whom same were purchased or received, and the number of hogsheads, cases or pounds sold by him; with the name and residence, in each instance, of the person to whom sold, and, if shipped, to what district. Any person required to keep such an account of his transactions is liable to special tax as a dealer in leaf tobacco.

A Collector asked upon what basis the special tax can be collected from a person engaging in the business of a dealer in leaf tobacco during the present year who either was not a dealer or was a member of a partnership of dealers last year. The reply is that he must pay a special tax of $6 when he first engages in business, and when his aggregate monthly sales exceed $50,000 he will be required to pay special tax from the time his sales exceed that amount. If his sales exceed at any time that amount, he will be required to pay the additional special tax.

How To Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach be disordered, you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys be affected, you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alterative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys. Purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and give a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at J. J. Wood & Son's drug store. Fifty cents per bottle.

APPROACHING NUPTIALS.

Hon. E. L. Worthington to wed Miss Laura Hannan, of Swan Creek, O., next Wednesday.

The announcement of the approaching marriage of Hon. E. L. Worthington comes in the nature of a very pleasant surprise to many of his bachelor associates and most intimate friends.

At noon, Wednesday, August 3rd, Mr. Worthington will wed Miss Laura Hannan, of Swan Creek, O.

The nuptials will be solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents. It is to be a quiet home wedding.

The groom-elect is one of Maysville's highly esteemed citizens and stands among the foremost lawyers of North-eastern Kentucky.

Miss Hannan is a daughter of Dr. W. F. Hannan, and is an accomplished young lady, of lovely character. She is a sister of Mrs. C. M. Phister, and during her visits here has won many friends who will warmly welcome her to Maysville.

The BULLETIN extends congratulations and best wishes in advance of the happy event.

"How I do love a good show," is the voluntary compliment evoked from all who attend Fremont Park. Last night a full tent, nearly every seat occupied, applauded, recalled and laughed through two hours of fun and amusement, and it's no running down of any to say the coterie of artists gathered this week at Fremont's is unapproachable in character delineation, in genius and in worth from top to bottom. The sketches, songs and acts are done with an ability, a merit and a dash bound to start a laugh, quick to touch the risibles. The Rosary use any kind of an instrument and play delightfully. The Kelley and Maddern team are most pleasing in their act. Little Eileen is ente, Cassell splendid, Teed and Allen better than ever, and the gem farce "Foiled" is splendid. To-night the great Cassell will mount to the clouds in his airship, firing rockets as he goes. Come out at 8 o'clock to enjoy it. Ten cents is all to the best vandeville.

League of American Wheelmen, Indianapolis, Ind., August 9th to 13th.

For the above occasion the C. and O. will sell round trip tickets, Maysville to Indianapolis, at one fare, $5.05. Tickets on sale August 8th and 9th. Return limit August 16th.

Excursion to Oglethorpe.

The C. and O. will run an excursion from Cincinnati to Maysville and Oglethorpe next Sunday. The train will leave Cincinnati at 8 a.m. Round trip only $1.

THE L. and N. freight department reports the heaviest movement of fruit just now noted for several years. Train load after train load is being sent over the L. and N. lines, the luscious Georgia peach being particularly in evidence along with his color green brother, the Georgia watermelon. Continuation of Our
$7.65 Suit
Sale.

We will continue to sell $10, $12 and $15 Suits for $7.65 during this entire month. There are two reasons for this. One is that we find we have many more good Suits to put in this sale than we thought we had. The other reason is that our many country patrons are in the midst of the heaviest work of the year and did not yet have an opportunity to avail themselves of these splendid bargains, hence the sale continues during the month.

PINELLAS BAYOU.

BY MINNIE GILMORE-MILLS.

(From Tampa Bay, on the west coast of Florida, this picturesque "bayou" runs into the sub-peninsula of Florida.)

The rosy light of dying day,
Falls soft on old Pinellas Bay;
The white-sailed dinghies rock and ride,
Upon the slowly ebbing tide;
Far to the south the sun sets deep in the,
Bathed with the glow's vermilion hue;
A lone upon rises, weird the scream
That breaks the ambient air;
Oh, lovely bay—land of my dream—
O, Florida, the fair.

The gold and crimson cloudlets low,
Now slue in billowy Mexico,
Leaving an opalescent light,
That reaches far, green the sight;
As I gazed in these Southern climes
Leaps into night; the seen of times—
That borne upon the cool night breeze,
With orange, lemon, pine—
Exhilarates like wine—

Over wooded hill, and beach and dale,
Night drops her velvety shawl,
And dusts the green wet;
Arrive her silver coronet;
The light-house fire swings slowly 'round,
The lapping waves the only sound;
For awesome broodeth o'er
Pinellas' swelling crest,
How we longed for this fair shore—
Oh, Florida, the true.

There was a musical at the residence of Ed. Cohn in Springfield on Tuesday night. Among the guests were Prof. Wm. Bowman, of Toluca, and Miss Rena Mae Coryell, and mother of "Orchard Farm."

William Phillips received a request to fill the pulpit at Ger-nontown for J. W. McGarvey, Jr., and should he be unable to do so he was asked to see Charles Sawyer. This speaks very highly for these young men, coming from one who knew them well at the university where they have been attending school. Neither of these young men are yet twenty-one years old. Our pastor William Phillips has been preaching every Sunday at Bethany during the vacation, and has been meeting with excellent success, there being five confessions last Sunday and three the Sunday before. He also has selected a choir and drills them every Friday night, and the church is building fast under his care.
